Car hits two students at Campbell-Winchester

Two West Valley College girls were struck down in the busy crosswalk at Campbell Ave. and Winchester Blvd. Friday afternoon by a 1958 Chevrolet stationwagon which had apparently gone out of control.

The accident occured during the peak school traffic hours at West Valley College as the crosswalks and traffic lanes were filled with students, as the accompanying pictures illustrate.

The victims were Cathy Brannon, 18, 15204 Dickins St., San Jose, and Connie Starkey, 18, 15300 Vale Ave., Campbell. Both girls were treated for severe lacerations and contusions by physicians at west valley hospitals and released to their own doctors.

The driver of the stationwagon, (shown in the photos) was Mrs. Jimmie Sue Hayes, a housewife 3460 New Jersey Ave., San Jose.

According to the police report, Mrs. Hayes was driving east on Campbell Ave. Apparently the brakes on the car failed causing it to plow through the crosswalk, hitting the girls. Her car continued into the intersection at Winchester where it struck the 1966 Ford driven by Mrs. Elizabeth Marie Chargin, 1059 Bent Dr., Campbell. Neither Mrs. Hayes nor Mrs. Chargin was injured.

Mrs. Hayes apparently tried to warn the pedestrains that her car had lost its brakes by waving her arms and using the horn as she approached the crosswalk.

OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

NATURALLY we must touch on some of the election highlights and sidelights this week, for, in our opinion, the approval of the four bond measures was the most outstanding event in this community's history.

True, two of the six measures on the ballot (parks for $850,000 and the maintenance yard for $130,000) didn't quite make the grade.

But they both received a 64% majority vote. As you know it took a two-thirds majority to pass them.

The election, in our opinion, was a vote of confidence by the citizens for the dedicated and determined efforts of their fellow citizens who worked so diligently over a nine-month period.

The results truly will be a shot-in-the-arm for this community. And the amazing part of the whole shebang is that "pros" felt that the so-called "climate" was wrong for a bond issue.

Similar elections in other communities had gone down the drain.

But the "amateurs" in Campbell were only concerned with their own community and its future, not its past.

And they really showed up the "pros".

WE ALL SHOULD be proud of this "grass roots" achievement and the community unity that was shown.

Although many individuals spent hours working in the campaign, no one person can really be singled out as the "star" of the production. It was a team effort from start to finish.

Naturally a great deal of credit must go to Don Hebard, general chairman, and Jeanette Watson, vice-chairman of the citizens group. They did a great job in coordinating the efforts.

But both of them are the first to concede that it was the entire group that did the job.

ONE MEMBER OF the citizens team, for example, who did outstanding service for his community was Norman Paul, co-owner of the Plaza Theater, a public relations expert, formerly with a TV and radio station.

In this campaign conducted by amateurs, Norm's professional training came in mighty handy, as you might guess.

He was responsible for designing much of the material that was distributed to the voters.

And he also did the "tapes" that were heard over the mobile public address system that toured the town on election day.

It was Norm's voice you heard. Both Don Hebard and Carl Kuhn, who drove the station wagon with "p.a." system around town, claimed that the "tapes" were so good that after listening to it as they were driving around, they became more fired up than ever.

HOW MANY VOTES that mobile "p.a." system was responsible for, of course, is a matter of conjecture. And, naturally, it could

Gal solos in glider

JANICE FLEMING, 14 - year old glider

A Campbell girl has soloed in a glider plane following completion of eight hours of training at Fremont Air Strip. The young lady is Janice Fleming, a 14 year old Campbell High School freshman, who has been interested in flying since she was a youngster. Janice comes by her love of flying through her parents. Both her mother and father, Eleanor and Charles Fleming of 919 Hedegard St., are pilots.

Janice soloed in a two place Switzer 233, soaring 3000 feet over the crest of the mountains. Later she flew the single place Switzer 126 alone. As soon as she is old enough she intends to get her power pilots license. The requirements are that she solo by the time she is 16 in order to obtain her pilots license when she is 17. Janice is especially curious about space, and intends to pursue a career in that field.

Her father is a design and stress weight engineer at Lockheed. Mrs. Fleming, who has been flying with her husband for nearly 18 years, soloed last May. There's another little Fleming at home, Jeanette, age 6, who has been flying as a passenger since she was three months old.

CIVIL AIR PATROL

Janice is a member of the San Jose Civil Air Patrol Squadron 114, which is now meeting at the Church of Christ of Campbell, 1075 W. Campbell Ave. on Monday nights at 7:30 p.m.

Firm submits plans

Campbell gets new industry

Just slightly less than $1 million is estimated to be the cost for the buildings and facilities for the newest industry that is to be located in Campbell's industrial park on Dell Ave. just north of Division St. and which now employs 125 people at its present operation. Expansion plans contemplate 400 to be employed.

Plans for the 36,596 square foot plant of the Deluxe Check Printing, Co., (Deleco Corporation) on the five-acre parcel in the C-M (controlled manufacturing) zone have been submitted to the Planning Commission for approval by Higgins and Root, Los Gatos architects.

The commission is scheduled to act on the plans next Monday, Nov. 6.

According to the architects, the "time table" calls for construction to start before the start of the new year and the facilities to be completed in a six-month period. The firm now operates out of rented quarters in Santa Clara.

The industrial firm, which is Chicago based and nationwide in scope, will adjoin another firm on Dell on which construction has already started.

"Uninvited"-so no Sunday parade

Campbell High's marching band will not parade in Campbell this Sunday, Nov. 5.

And the band will not parade in the Pasadena Rose Parade either.

The parade this Sunday had been scheduled to publicize the Bucs campaign for participation in the Rose Parade on January 1.

This week, Bill Perkins, band director, received notice that the Buc band would not be invited to Pasadena.

The parade planned here on Sunday thus would be anti-climatical so it was called off.

Impressive ceremony marks dedication of St. Lucy's

BEFORE THE CEREMONY— Parishioners and friends gathered in front of the new St. Lucy's Church (top photo) prior to the dedication ceremony last Sunday. In the lower two photos are members of the St. Lucy's Choir, St. Lucy's Men's Choir and the choir of the First Methodist Church of Campbell who sang the Mass.

PROCESSION— A honor guard and visiting church dignataries escorted Archbishop Joseph T. McGuckin, of San Francisco, from the rectory to the church for the dedication rites presided over by the archbishop. (top photo) In the lower photo the archbishop blesses the closed doors of the church.

DOORS OPEN— The archbishop enters the church, preceded by his escorts and followed by the congregation. After blessing the interior, the archbishop joined with Father John Lally, pastor, and five other priests who have been associated with St. Lucy's, as celebrants of the High Mass of Celebration.

Coming of age

The citizens of Campbell by their vote at the polls on Oct. 24 have given the City Council a definite guideline as to how the city administration should proceed in developing this community.

No longer need the City Council grope in the dark for directions as how to proceed. The people have made their desires known.

By a two-third majority vote, the electorate approved bonds for financing a city administration-police facilities ($835,000); library facilities ($400,000); fire station ($345,000); street improvements ($1,045,000) for a total of $2,620,000.

A clear-cut "mandate" has been given the City Council by the people. They indicated that they want their community to progress and develop in a conservative, orderly but adequate manner and they are willing to pay the freight.

The mandate should silence those critics once and for all who have long stood on the sidelines and questioned Campbell's right to exist as an entity. And in some instances these critics have placed roadblocks in the way of this city's progress.

Campbell's achievement at the polls becomes even more impressive when it is recognized that the voters here did not follow the pattern that has been set in many other communities. Bond measures in general have not fared too well at the hands of the electorate in recent months.

In fact there was considerable concern in some quarters locally during the campaign because of this so-called "unfavorable climate".

But the citizens of this city felt that the time was right to move toward the goals that had been set.

It was a remarkable display of community unity.

And it proved conclusively that Campbell truly has come of age.

A prof speaks out

An attentive audience at the recent Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting heard Dr. John W. Gilbaugh of San Jose State give a scathing indictment of waste in the state colleges and universities in this state.

Appropriately Dr. Gilbaugh spoke at the annual "Business Education Day" of the Chamber at which 46 local educators, ranging from elementary to junior college level, were guests of C of C members.

But Dr. Gilbaugh's talk was not geared to educators.

It was really directed to all the citizens of the state who pick up the tab for higher education.

His talk was entitled, "The Mounting Crisis In California's Higher Education", and the professor let go some barbs that made many of us cringe as we envisioned the sorry state of affairs that apparently exist in the colleges.

Even conceding that Dr. Gilbaugh is a controversial figure in college circles because of his attack on some of the more sacred cows of higher education, his talk struck home, for most of us have been too apathetic about the colleges and what has been going on.

Dr. Gilbaugh was for six years the dean of the San Jose State College. He was reassigned to classroom teaching shortly after he first spoke out against the waste existing in the colleges.

So impressed was your editor by the presentation of Dr. Gilbaugh that we plan to publish his entire speech in The Campbell Press whenever space permits, as we have obtained a reprint of it which originally appeared in the California Farmer.

The professor has also written a small booklet entitled "A Plea for Sanity in the Public Colleges and Universitites."

Dr. Gilbaugh maintains that by careful planning and proper utilization of human resources now committed to higher education in California, it is possible to improve the quality of education in our state colleges and universities without raising taxes.

He claims the shortage of teachers to fill vacancies in the state colleges and universities is an artificial one, for a big percentage of the so-called full-time faculty members are engaged in outside work. In some instances full-time faculty members report to the campus only two days a week.

Dr. Gilbaugh believes that if three units of course work were added to the teaching load of the regular full-time faculty, many positions now filled by part-time and temporary instructors could be eliminated.

He also was critical of the internal management of the colleges. He expressed concern over the transition that has taken place in which teaching faculties who are subject matter specialists and not administrators have gained control of the on-campus administrative aparatus in almost every tax-supported college university.

But you must read the entire presentation to get the full impact.

Dr. Gilbaugh's conclusion is especially shattering... That unless things change, students in the near future will be receiving college degrees but not a college education.

have reminded the "no voter" to go to the polls as well as the "yes".

But definitely one "yes for all six" voter went to the polls because of it.

Mrs. Norman Paul admits she did.

YOU SEE, NORM had to be out of town on election day, and voted beforehand by absentee ballot. Mrs. Paul had been busy on election day and had not thought about voting.

That is until she heard her husband's voice coming over the loudspeaker urging the people to vote.

That gave her quite a start, inasmuch as she was certain that Norm was 1000 miles away at the time.

When Charmain saw the station wagon she realized it was only Norm's voice on tape.

But it did the trick.

She dropped everything and hastened to the polls.

THEN THERE WAS this experience of City Manager Bob Stephens.

Bob, naturally had spent a great deal of time at the bond headquarters during the day and also at night when the returns were coming in.

There was bustling activity at both the city hall, where the votes were tallied and at the headquarters where the loyal workers had gathered.

Bob's wife, Audrey, joined him at the headquarters later in the evening.

After the results were all in and everyone had simmered down, Bob and Audrey climbed into their car at the bond headquarters and drove home.

When they got home they realized they had taken both their cars over to the headquarters.

And one was still there.

AND FROM THE "What-might-have-been" department is this note.

After the 18 absentee ballots were tallied, which showed that all six measures were carrying nicely, the first precinct to come in was No. 15, at 1741 W. Campbell Ave.

There was a good reason why this precinct was the first one in.

Only 28 ballots had to be counted and there were only six negative votes in the whole bunch.

The reason for such a low vote in this precinct was that there had been a foul up in the street address for the polling place. It had been first listed as 1761 W. Hamilton instead of W. Campbell Ave. Apparently many of the voters didn't get the correction that went out.

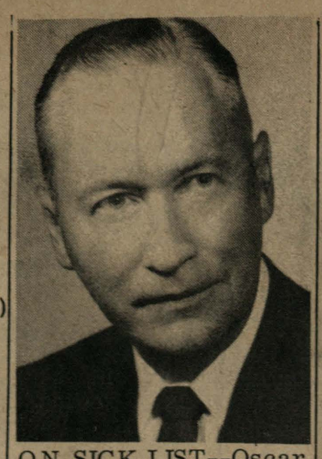
INASMUCH AS THE parks measure only missed 90 votes, who knows but maybe, if 29% of the voters, (as was the percentage throughout the city,) had gone to the polls in that particular precinct, the parks issue might have carried. The trend of the 28 who did vote (less than 10%) looked promising.

Incidentally in only one precinct in the entire city did any measure fail to receive a majority. (The parks lost by four votes in No. 2 (Hamilton Ave. Mobile Home Park).

But "what-might-have-been" means nothing today.

It's the future of our community that counts and after that Oct. 24 vote, it looks promising. Don't you agree?



ON SICK LIST--Oscar Sorenson, manager of the Hamilton Plaza Branch of Bank of America, is recuperating from a heart attack at his home in Palo Alto. Bank officials indicated he will be "off the job" for at least six weeks.

Estimated cost of this facility which now employs 40 people is $200,000.

Plans for the Deluxe Check Printing Co., facility calls for a masonry and tilt-up construction. The parcel has a 264-foot frontage on Dell and extends 825 feet to the railroad tracks.

The firm, which produces commercial and private checks and ledger forms, is a specialzed operation with specially constructed high-speed presses. There are now 18 plants in the country and two more under construction.

A regional plant is located in Chatsworth, the only other one in California. The Campbell plant is planned to serve the western states

OTHER ACTIONS

Other items on the Planning Commission agenda for next Monday night include plans for an addition at the Kirkwood Plaza Shopping Center expanding Kirkwood Hardware and will "fill in the gap" to the Mayfair Market. Ira Kirkorian is the applicant.

Approval is also being sought for a sign for a "Tho'tful Stop Flower stand in the new Riverside Plaza Shopping Center, 747 W. Hamilton and for plans for two four-unit apartments; one on Nello Drive submitted by Enfantino and Toschi and the other at 237 Hollis submitted by Robert Nyberg.

Bob Raffanti is also seeking approval for a revised canopy at the rear of the newly-remodeled building at 260 E. Campbell Ave. Philip Sondeno has also resubmitted plans for 70-bed convalescent hospital on Union Ave. Plans were previously approved but were dependent on the L.I.D. that is now completed.

The First Free Will Baptist Church has also submitted plans for approval of new classrooms and the Philips Service Station, 1595 Winchester Blvd. is appealing denial of a second pole sign by the planning director.

Kato Brothers & Associates are also asking approval for a variance in CM zoning at 785 McGlincey Lane. The firm has also submitted plans for an industrial building at that location.

Up for discussion for the Planning Commission also will be the request that has been submitted by the City of San Jose that the name of Casey Road be changed to Curtner between Bascom and Union but not the remainder of the street.

"Oliver" opens Nov. 4 at Montgomery Theater

One of the biggest musical comedy successes of the 1960's is scheduled to come singing, bouncing and bubbling its way into the Montgomery Theater on Nov. 4 for a run of three weekends through Nov. 18.

This is "Oliver!"--the adaptation into light, lyrical entertainment of Charles Dickens "Oliver Twist"--which drew thronging audiences for two years in New York, five years in London, and four long American tours.

The attraction is coming to the Montgomery theater not only with two stars, Vince Alaimo as Fagin and Saun Broome as Nancy, but also with a herd of ragged urchins led by Bunky Lloyd as Oliver and Lee Garcia as the Artful Dodger, to scramper through this tale of London's 19th Century underworld that has been a world wide favorite since Dickens wrote it in 1863.

Oliver! was written from beginning to end--book, music, and lyrics--by one man, Lionel Bar, Englands most popular song-writer of the present mid century, whose work was lighting up three London theaters simultaneously when "Oliver!" took New York by storm as the beginning of 1963.

Anthony B. Moyer is the director imparting to Oliver a robust, brawling Hogathian aura, Mel De Salvo is the musical director who will give the beat to its sixteen song hits, and Leon Magoon is the designer contributing a rowdy underworld atmosphere with settings of the taverns, thieves dens, streets, work houses and river embankments of London 130 years ago.

More than 80% of all Americans have lived their entire adolescent and adult lives under a system of steadily increasing federal control of human problems Now, almost a full generation accepts such a trend because it never experienced anything else. It labors under the delusion that Washington brains and federal bureaus are superior and more efficient.

But federal control has defects which stem from the over concentration of decision making in an Executive Branch which includes only two men elected by the people. As State Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh has said, "Creative federalism cannot thrive where one partner--the federal government--calls all the shots. The states must be given a part to play which consists of more than mere compliance."

In today's federalism, the states are becoming little more than pawns on an executive chessboard!

Alleging that reduced highway construction will lower the budget deficit, the President has threatened to impound highway construction funds. This would have no effect upon the deficit since grants to the states are made from a special trust fund which comes from taxes on motor fuel, tires, trucks, busses, etc. The money collected can only be spent for highways.

While threatening to cut back on highway construction, the President is insisting upon more than $80 million for the First Lady's program to beautify highways which won't be built if he impounds construction money. To get beautification funds, the states will be required to pass zoning standards which conform to Washington edicts.

The new Federal Highway Safety Program will force a program of highway safety on California which will cost more than $100 million each year and won't be as good as what we already have. If California does not comply, it will lose approximately $50 million in highway safety and construction funds.

Under the pending Federal Air Quality Act, California, which is far ahead of the rest of the nation, could be required to conform to much lower federal air pollution standards. Because other states would accept pollutants in their air, we could be required to do the same.

Though many federal programs are justifiable, those mentioned above and others result only in penalizing the progressive states to reward and subsidize backward ones.

Many federal programs are wasteful. They lead to increased costs, federal deficits, and finally a President's insistence on a tax raise to hold down private spending and check inflation. Such thinking is based upon the theory that you and I are not wise enough to handle our income and a spendthrift government should do it for us.

And, lastly, big government always leads to inflation. As Senator Norris Cotton recently put it: "In a gallant attempt to make the nickel worth something, Hershey has reduced its almond bar from 7/8 oz. to 13/16 oz. (it used to be a full ounce), and long-playing records may soon carry only eleven songs instead of twelve.

New telephone office opens on Leigh Ave.

Pacific Telephone's new business office serving Campbell, South San Jose and San Martin will open to the public today (Nov. 1).

The traditional ribbon will be cut to signify the office is ready to serve the public, according to Manager Lee Sicard. Telephone customers with prefixes 227, 225, 264, 265, 266, 269, 371, 374, 377, 378, 379 and 683 may pay their bills or make inquiries about service at the office.

Sicard and his staff have been in the new building at Leigh and Hamilton Aves. for a week but it was not open to the public until the "shake down" period was completed.

The modern structure, which faces on Leigh, presents an outward appearance of glass, exposed redwood and concrete. It encompasses 18, 692 square feet of space and was designed by the architectural firm of Higgins and Root of Los Gatos.

Pacific Telephone puts long-distance rates in effect

Reduced rates for many out-of-state long distance telephone calls go into effect Nov. 1, G. L. Sicard, Pacific Telephone manager, has reminded Campbell customers.

The new rate schedule, filed last month by the Bell System with the Federal Communications Commission, also introduces a new "midnight-to-7 a.m." rate for dialed calls: a maximum 75-cent initial charge anywhere in the United States. Sicard said this service is expected to be especially convenient for early morning calls to the East.

Calls requiring operator assistance are not included, he said.

Principal features of the various other new charges are: -Present night and Sunday station-to-station rates apply all day Saturday and have been advanced to start at 7 p.m. instead of 8 p.m. on weekdays. They also have been extended to run until 7 a.m. instead of 4:30 a.m. on weekdays.

A maximum charge of $1 will apply for a three-minute station-to-station call within the continental limits of the United States. These rates will also apply all day on Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year's Day, July 4, and Labor Day.

-The present evening station rate has been advanced to apply on weekdays from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. instead of 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. For transcontinental calls, the rate has been lowered from $1.50 to $1.25 for the first three minutes.

-Night person-to-person rates have been reduced from a maximum initial charge of $3 to $2.85. The new charges will apply all day Saturday and Sunday instead of just Sunday, as well as from 5 p.m. to 7 a.m. weekdays instead of from 6 p.m. to 4:30 a.m.

-Reduced station-to-station and person-to-person day rates will now apply from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. The maximum three-minute station rate will be cut from $2 to $1.75, and the person rate from $3.50 to $3.30.

Sicard said customers will receive detailed information on the new rates with their telephone bill.

Campbell Corners

by Pat Hebard.

The Campbell Buccaneers remain undefeated as they were victorious over the Saratoga Falcons last Friday afternoon on their field. This was Saratoga's first loss this season.

The Song Girls and Cheerleaders switched places with the football players for a rally Friday. The Frosh-Soph team played against the girls as the Falcons. The girls won both rallies with touchdowns by Penny Knight and Kathy Bumstead.

Basketball, valleyball, badminton, dancing and refreshments were provided for the Sophomores last Wednesday night from 7 to 9 p.m. Most of the class was there.

"It was a real ball", says sophomore Mary Nelson.

The band took first place in Santa Clara University's Homecoming Parade last Saturday morning. They were battling against Samuel Ayre high school who was also trying to get an invitation to the Rose Bowl Parade in Pasadena.

At half-time at last Friday's game Saratoga's band and the Buc Band provided entertainment. Buc Flag Girls and Majorettes twirled to "Impossible Dream". The Pirettes dedicated their routine to the football team with a dance in football jerseys to "Confidence".

The annual Twirp Dance was held last Friday night in the girls gym. The "Chosen Few" provided the music. Most of the girls brought a date and made a crazy corsage for them to wear. The Gym was changed from volleyball and basketball courts into a dance hall with decorations in many colors. The dance was a climax of the annual Twirp Week.

Our next game will be Friday with the Leigh Longhorns. It will be a day game at Leigh's field.

Blackford Beat

by Linda Hodam

The Blackford Braves have been undefeated so far this football season. The Brave's first football game against Mitty High school scored Blackford 26, Mitty O. Then with our third game holding Camden scoreless as we did with the other schools, Blackford pulled 40 points against Camdens 0. Finally our last game was Blackford 25 and Westmont 0. Blackford's next opponents will be Los Gatos High School.

Ending with a tremendous bang, the class of '69 achieved their goal of surpassing the class of '68 in their magazine sales. The class of '68 ended last year with $8,000 and the class of '69 this year topped every school throughout the district plus the class of '68 with a total of $9,300.

The magazine sale will be climaxed by the traditional pizza party. All '69 students who participated in the magazine drive are eligible for the pizza party. The pizza party will feature dancing and free pizza.

CAR WASH

Boy Scout Troop 330 will hold a car wash at the 76 Richfield Station at Hacienda and Winchester on Saturday, Nov. 4. All parents and friends of Boy Scout Troop 330 in the San Tomas area are especially urged to participate.

Del Mar Sports

Del Mar's varsity football squad beat Leigh for the first time in its history last Friday, while, the day before, Bruce Runcie broke the cross country course record at Laguna Seca.

After being the Dons' outstanding player in the previous game, varsity fullback Barry Reynolds again shown in the defeat of Leigh, 21-6. Reynolds stomped out a total of 187 yards, and scored Del Mar's last T.D. with a 36 yard run as the final gun sounded.

Don Transeth was the Dons' leading receiver with seven completions for 56 yards and having caught Del Mar's second touchdown.

In cross country, Del Mar's three top runners - Bruce Runcie, Ron Ollenburger, and Ed Gibson-traveled to York School at Laguna Seca October 26, where Runcie broke the course record by seven seconds with a new time of 10:44.

BIG DISTRICT

Forty years ago, the congressional district which included San Diego and Imperial Counties adjoined the district which included Siskiyou and Modoc Counties.

Camden Capers

By Gayle Piech

Kirk Cunningham has been nominated by Mr. Joseph Bonfiglio, senior counselor, as Camden's candidate for the "Youth of the Year" award. The nomination was based on grade point average and extra curricular activities.

Maintaining a straight "A" average, Kirk also participates in numerous activities including C.S.F., track, Block C, cross country, student council, YMCA Service Club, and Rally Commission.

Freshman President, Sophomore Vice President, Junior Secretary, and now Student Body President, are the offices Kirk has held in his four years at Camden.

Kirk also devotes time to religious activities such as Young Life.

According to Mr. Bonfiglio, "Kirk will, without doubt, graduate from Camden as one of the most outstanding young men in the school's history."

STUDENT CONGRESS

"Legalization of addictive drugs", "Withdrawal of U. S. troops in Europe", "Federal government sharing tax revenues with the States" and "A resolution to provide an anti-balistic missle system", were the topics discussed at a student congress session held at Saratoga High, October 28.

The students from Camden High who participated were: Irene Thovardson, Joe Mugden, Steve Larson, Pam McKay, Debe Williams Kendra Hefner, Jim Billings, Berl Beverage and Mike Feasly.

FROSH TESTING

Freshmen are now striving on to complete their SCAT and STEP test which started October 16 and will continue until November 3.

Freshmen are taking these tests in their English classes, on subjects such as writing, speech, English, and math.

EX-CAMDENITE

Dean Bowman, an outstanding member of Camden's Class of '62, has recently graduated from Stanford University with a degree in history.

While at Camden, Dean was known for his athletic abilities in frosh/soph and varsity baseball, and also "B" and varsity football. He was "All-league" in both football and baseball and made it to Stanford on an athletic scholarship.

Mr. Bowman is now teaching two periods of history at Blackford High as a trainee, and is working towards his Master's degree in history.

YOUTH OF THE YEAR Camden High School has named Kirk Cunningham as "Youth for the Year" for his high grade point average and extra-curricula activities. He is a senior and student body president of Camden High School.

Del Mar Dateline

by Glenda Vitale

Although a little more lengthy than expected, Del Mar's first night rally proved to be a success. It included the introduction of the Dons Varsity team, folk singing, and skits put on by Interact, and Spirit Commission. Drama Commission also put on a short skit. The central theme of the rally-Beat Leigh!!

Del Mar's annual Twirp dance was held Friday night, climaxing Twirp week. With more than 500 people attending, there was quite a crowd. Everyone enjoyed dancing to the music of "The People."

Spirit was high at the Del Mar-Leigh game, as the Dons went on to slaughter the Longhorns 20-6.
